

WELCOME TO OUR WEBSITE !

The music scene has changed spectacularly over the past few years, and it's still evolving. We can see a free merging of the different kinds of music we used to know, on a way to one big entity.

Indeed, all kinds of music get blended, no restrictions, no rules, with often a very original but no longer clearly definable result.

Unavoidably, traditional musical schooling runs a few steps behind all this.

That's where Jazzstudio and Popsoulstudio make the difference.

As we are a completely private institution, we can organize and decide free from government regulations, thus creating a super fertile and challenging field of activity for young musicians. We can swiftly meet with their every need and answer all of their questions.

The perfect stepping stone for a music career
